That this country should stand first and foremost in the matter of a was vessel is another wonder which will wake up old Europe to a new realization of her slow methods and the vigor of American inventive genius. It was the Monitor-Merrimac incident that caused the powers to commence at once the building of iron-clad fleets, so invulnerable and swift that the American navy was often slightingly alluded to. Uncle Sam lay quiet. He was quite exhausted after the terrible setto he had with the South. He was sick of war and of contemplating war.

In the meantime the Cleveland administration came into power and with it the policy of laying the foundation of a modern navy. Be it to the credit of the Harrison administration, the work was continued with vigor and circumspection. The result is the war ship New York, which made, during her recent trial trip, the extraordinary speed of 201 knots or over 23 miles per hour. The value of fast vessels in time of war is incalculable. They can either catch vessels or run away from them, as the circumstances may require. Though the speed of the New York may exceed that of the fastest vessels in the world by but half an knot an hour, it is an achievement of vast importance, and no doubt will create a sensation among the naval powers of the world, which have been matter of acquiring effective armaments.

Francis M. Bowie, a large landholder of Prince George's county, met a shocking fate on Saturday evening last, having been foully murdered near his residence, situated near Upper Marlboro'. He had mounted his horse and gone out to look after a flock of sheep. Not returning, search was made, when his body was found at the bottom of an old well. His jaw was found broken and bones above the eye crushed in. Either of the wounds would have produced death. He had evidently been beaten to death with e club. Tracks of the horse indicated the spot where the murder took place. The horse returned to the house the same evening at about 7.30 o'clock. The country is aroused, and the most searching investigation is being made, but at last accounts no substantial clues had been found. One arrest was made, but able to give a satisfactory account of several children.

The American Tin Industry. We can now get down to the exact facts and figures about the American tin industry with reasonable hope that the people will accept and study the truth, and when that point is reached our tin industry shrivels up into a few establishments maintained solely by taxing the people some $16,000,000 a year, and not half the small product is entitled to be called American.

We consume in round numbers nearly or quite 700,000,000 pounds of tin a year in this country. We have now had two years of trial under the McKinley tariff that increased the tax on tin plate 120 | the happy life intended for them." per cent. In other words, the people of the country (all of whom are consumers of tin have been taxed some $25,600,000 to establish the American tin industry, and the official report of the last quarter shows that we have not produced 20,000, 000 pounds of all kinds, chiefly of foreign plate, foreign labor and foreign tin. The consumption of tin in this country is about 175,000,000 pounds a quarter, and we produced only 19,756,491 pounds of all sorts of tin, or little more than one-tenth the amount consumed. To produce this less than 20,000,000 pounds, $4,000,000, or about 20 cents per pound to enjoy "A Texas Steer." of so-called American tin turned out, but most of this oppressive tax was imposed upon our people to produce tin that is not in any sense American tin.

Of the less than 20,000,000 pounds of tin produced during the three months ending with the close of the last year, only 2,245,506 pounds were made of American iron or steel plate, showing that little more than one-tenth of the tin produced was of American plates. The labor statistics are carefully omitted in the report, but it is well known that a majority of the tin establishments were manned by imported workmen, and that all the tin used came from foreign mines. ever; nine cases out of ten are caused by digestive organs and the liver, are cured There is, therefore, only a little more than one-tenth of the tin produced that ed condition of the mucous surfaces. is American, and all the tin pig used was imported. Of all the many invented robberies of the masses for the benefit of the classes | Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, the miscalled tin industry is the most flagrant, and with all the severe exactions imposed upon the people the tin manufacturers have profited little if any. They now find that there is no American tin, and the tariff that taxed the people for their tin plate also taxed foreign tin pig 4 cents per pound, to go into effect Bedding of all kinds, etc., at lowest next July. Thus the tin-manufacturing tax-eaters must come in as tax payers. for the American tin mines are wholly abandoned. Such is the plain story of the American tin fraud, and it is one of the most costly and grotesque of all the object lessons of taxing the many for the benefit of the few. The tax on tin plate will doubtless be reduced to the old i cent per pound as a revenue measure, and we will fn time develop a healthy and legitimate tin industry, but it will come in the logic of business events and not by robbery of the people to inspire speculative enterprise.-Philadelphia Times.

Reply to "Homo."

MESSRS. EDITORS: Referring to a letter published in THE TIMES last week, laying severe strictures upon the correspondent of the Progress in regard to alleged misstatements in his report of the Baltimore M. E. Conference, held in Hagerstown, allow me to

All the statements in that report, touching the matter of transfers, are cor-

It is more than likely that Homo is wrong when he says that the statement that the "Mount Vernon Place Church buildings belong to that congregation" will be news to Mount Vernon. That information having been gathered from members of the official board of that church, it is fair to assume that the pub lication of the same is not news to them. Doubtless it is news to many in the M. E. Church, who like our friend, are not fully informed on the subject he handles so freely. As a correspondent of the Progress it is my business to collect news, and I appreciate the compliment, if it is intended as such.

Homo betrays his readers, unintentionally, perhaps, into a wrong underof the Progress report by declaring that it "abounds in errors." cites but one, however, the alleged error due to his ignorance of the facts. The impression conveyed to his readers, though, is that my letter was full of errors, while really the one he mentions was the only mare's nest he could find. So while the writer of the Progress letter i thankful for the fatherly advice, he blushes for his adviser who, unmindful of the fitness of things, thunders forth from his self-erected fabric of error, the tne abjuration, "get facts; deal in facts." That the bishop shared the writer's news as to the "smallness" of the actions of Conference is shown by the course he adopted in allowing the four churches to select outside men for pastors, thus ignoring the Conference. Even sanctioning the transfer of a Canadian minister to Metropolitan Church. "A body of ministers second to none in the country" happily had a presiding officer capable of managing a portion, at least, of the affairs of the Conference.

The Progress writer reported facts in is own language. Surely that body o ministers should seek at the hands of the press not charity, but truth. To judge from the sickening effusions showered upon the "pencil points" at the meet ings, the former was wanted. At any rate the daily press accorded that which 'shall cover the multitude of sins."

Methodism is not just what it once was. Probably my critic has listened to the matchless eloquence of John A. Collins, and has felt the power of Richard Sewall. How those old names stir ones feelings. There was Brown Morgan, Norval Wilson, Thomas Sargent, John Poisal-men who upheld the dignity of the Mother of Conferences. My looking jealously at one another in the friend seems to forget that the body which he regards as above newspaper criticism is not constituted as of old. Only last year Bisop Foster complained of its "trash."

The writer was unwilling to believe that that element prevailed to such an extent as the vote against Mr. Lancely disclosed, concluding that some misapprehension must have arisen, maybe through the "steering committee" or "vatican," and in charity suggested that if reconsidered, no such a majority could be secured against the Canadian. A Plea for the Ronins.

A correspondent from Elk Ridge to the Baltimore Sun writes as follows: "After such a winter as has passed in dications of spring are eagerly welcom ed, and none is so pleasing as the advent of the birds. The occasion is seized as the most fitting opportunity by men and boys for the exhibition of a savage's delight in burning gunpowder and killing something. The woods re-echo with the reports of fire-arms, and the little songsters (intent upon giving utterance to their joyful notes and surveying the location for their summer home) are man-gled and killed for sport. The plea is himself. Mr. Bowie leaves a wife and advanced in justification of the sport that robins are all the game we have, and that they come in the same list of spring delicacies as spring chicken. AFFAIRS AT ANADARKO. Daughter of Howard Soon to Wed-The Indians and Interesting Items Con cerning Them-The Weather and Crops. ANADARKO, March 24th, 1893.

EDITORS OF THE TIMES:-We are having delightful weather out here, and on Wednesday were visited by a fine rain, which, though accompanied by hail, did but little damage in this immediate vicinity. Whilst we on this reservation are supposed to be beyond the pale of civilization, we are still not hands pretty full in this part of Uncle Sam's dominions.

This usually quiet little town is now in a flutter of excitement over the announcement of the coming marriage of Miss Emma E. Day, daughter of Indian Agent George D. Day, of this reservation, and one of Howard county's fair women, to Mr. Asa S. Sharp, of this city, an account of which will be forwarded when the event takes place. The wedding is announced for the 19th of April. There are several other weddings talked of, but they have not as yet been announced.

Whilst the little god is busy with the white population, he is not unmindful of the dusky maidens. The Indian maidens marry at what, in the East, would be considered a very tender age, and we have some who are mothers at fourteen years old.

ing farms. They are also plowing their farms, planting corn and sowing oats. They are quiet and peaceable, and, as a very general thing, truthful. They still adhere to their old dress of blankets and sheets, but many of them are beginning to wear the clothes of the white man. Very many of them can speak a little English, and some of them can talk it very well. They are very diffident, however, and afraid of making mistakes, and will not talk in the English language if they can help it. It is quite likely that the country will be opened up for settlement within a few years, and I think they are trying to accommodate themselves to the inevitable.

We have corn and oats in the ground and such garden vegetables as onions, neas and lettuce are already growing. Hoping that you are having fine weather, and that you may enjoy a delightful
